

ALINSKYIAN ORGANIZING ISN'T CATHOLIC ACTION

Relatively little money from the Catholic Campaign for Human Development collection goes to “help the poor.” Over one third, however, goes into funding Alinskyian networks. These networks are political. They work closely with politicians – such as Barak Obama – and other organizations that are fighting for abortion and homosexual “rights.”

Catholics, who ought to be a powerful, consistent voice for moral values in society, are fragmented by these networks. The Catholic Campaign for Human Development bears much of the responsibility for this problem.

WHERE DOES CATHOLIC CAMPAIGN FOR HUMAN DEVELOPMENT MONEY GO?

Every November, the Catholic Campaign for Human Development collection is taken in Catholic parishes. Catholics are told the money is “for the poor” .

However, over a third of the money collected by the Catholic Campaign for Human Development goes to Alinskyian organizing networks—not to the poor.

ALINSKYIAN ORGANIZING DOESN'T HELP THE POOR

The Alinskyian organizing networks are pushing progressive politics - which means a lot of things, including abortion and same-sex marriage “rights”. Catholic money is being used to push

"Lest we forget at least an over-the-shoulder acknowledgment to the very first radical; from all our legends, mythology, and history (and who is to know where mythology leaves off and history begins - or which is which), the first radical known to man who rebelled against the establishment and did it so effectively that he at least won his own kingdom - Lucifer."

- Saul Alinsky, dedication of Rules for Radicals

laws that violate Catholic moral teaching. Alinskyian organizations have a fiercely left-wing political perspective. Because their membership consists of institutions—many of which are churches—their political ideas are often spread in the parish. Alinskyian organizations are not grassroots—they come into the neighborhood with an agenda. This isn't “power to the people”; it's “power to the organizer, using the people.”

THE CATHOLIC CAMPAIGN FOR HUMAN DEVELOPMENT FUNDS ALINSKYIAN ORGANIZING

Presidential nominee Barak Obama's primary work experience was Alinskyian community organizing. While he was lead organizer in Chicago for the Developing Communities Project, it received thousands of dollars from the Catholic Campaign for Human Development.

Obama has been associated with Gamaliel, the Industrial Areas Foundation, and ACORN—three Alinskyian networks that have received millions from the Campaign over the years.

Alinskyian organizing networks receive over a third of all Campaign for Human Development grants— which go into political activism, much of which violates Church teaching..
